KUROPATKIN ON THE RUN HIS ARMY BEING DRIVEN BACK BY THE JAPANESE.

Russian General Fighting Doggedly in Order to Spare his Army From Utter Rout-- Feeling of Depression and Gloom at St. Petersburg.

There is still an acute lack of official news in the Russian capital from the scene of operations in Manchuria and the feeling of depression and gloom which has prevailed there is still manifest. It, however, has been somewhat lessened by a hint that favorable news has been received from the eastern division of the Russian army. In view of the sensational character of this news, however, the people were advised to await official confirmation before accepting it fully. All later reports of the fighting bear out the earlier statements regarding the terribly heavy losses incurred in the six days during which the battle has raged.

Tokio, Oct. 16, 3a. m.—The latest advices are that the Russians left 4,500 dead in front of General Kuroki's army alone. The Russian losses there are estimated at 20,000.

Tokio, Oct. 15, 11 a. m.—General Oka reports that he found and buried 2,000 Russians before the battle of Oct. 14.

RUSSIANS BEATEN BACK.

Tokio, Oct. 15.—Kuropatkin's southern advance has been beaten back and his army is in retreat. He is, however, fighting doggedly, so as to spare the Russian army from utter rout. Oyama's triumphant troops have driven the Russians north to a line along the Sha (Sakhalin) river. They are vigorously pressing the pursuit and probably will inflict further severe damage on Kuropatkin's forces.

As a result of the battle of Oct. 14 the Russians left 2,000 dead on the field which they lost. Oyama estimates the Russian losses at over 20,000.

The fighting continued all along the entire line to day and the end is not near. It seems to be impossible for the Russians to rally and they probably will be pressed back across the Hun river.

FROM TOKIO

Summary of Reports Received From the Scene.

Tokio, Oct. 15.—Lengthy reports from the scene of hostilities were published to day. The report from field headquarters thus summarizes results:

From Oct. 10 to 14 the result of continuous fighting has favored in every direction the Japanese, while the enemy's strength was always superior. He was vigorously pursued by us, our forces pressing him against the left bank of the Hun river and inflicting upon him heavy losses. A great number of prisoners were taken, several thousand. Thus the object of the enemy has been completely frustrated and his offensive movement has ended in final failure. The corpses left by the enemy at the front are too numerous to be exactly counted. The enemy's losses cannot be easily ascertained owing to the continuance of fighting, but they must exceed 20,000. Trophies, beside the guns, include an enormous quantity of ammunition, wagons and rifles. These are still uncounted.

Russian corpses left on the field between Oct. 10 and 14 and buried by us exceed 2,000. The bodies left after the fighting of Oct. 14 are very numerous. Our casualties Oct. 11 and 12 were fifteen officers killed, forty-six wounded, 1,250 men killed and wounded. The enemy defeated by the Sinehau garrison Oct. 10 appears to have halted at Pindushan. According to prisoners captured, the force formerly stationed at Litachapetz lost sixty killed and wounded. The Japanese loss was three officers and a few men wounded.

RUSSIAN REPORT.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 15.—The latest report from the front brings the story of the great battle up to Saturday morning, when fighting was renewed with unabated vigor. Russians are holding their position at Shakhie and apparently neither they nor the Japanese are able to advance. All accounts agree that the great battle of Liao Yang is already being overshadowed in fierceness and number of casualties. It is now the sixth day of desperate fighting and the issue is still in the balance. The feeling in St. Petersburg is one of extreme gloom and depression. The lack of official news, the undoubted checking of Kuropatkin's aggressive move and enormous Russian losses in men and guns compared with optimistic reports from Tokio, all combine to prepare the public for anything short of total rout of the Russians.

A HEAVY LOSS.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 15.—The correspondent of the Rusko Slovo telegraphs General Biderling's corps lost almost an entire brigade of the third division, including a third of its artillery brigade, forty-eight guns. General Zarubalev's corps suffered terribly before its retreat Tuesday. General Mistechenko suffered heavily. The fighting was at such close range his guns were enfolded down by Japanese infantry fire.

BLOODY FIGHTING.

Mukden, Oct. 15.—One of the bloodiest episodes of the desperate fighting the past three days occurred at the village of Eldehulu and neighboring heights. The Russians twice drove the Japanese from positions with terrible losses, but were unable to hold them. The artillery fight was the fiercest of the war. The Japanese handled the guns superbly and chose splendid positions. They would concentrate the fire of two hundred guns first on one place and then on another. Some Russian regiments were literally shot to pieces. In one instance an entire company excepting one officer was annihilated. The Zarnik regiment drove the Japanese out of Eldehulu without firing a shot. They marched under cover of darkness and bayoneted several battalions of Japanese. The latter fled, some taking refuge in corn stalks, where the Russians literally tore up their bodies with bayonets.

STORY OF FIGHTING

Correspondent Tells of Battle Below Mukden.

Mukden, Oct. 15.—A Russian correspondent of the Associated Press in his story of fighting below Mukden says:

"The struggle was resumed to day at daybreak with promise of another day of stubborn combat. It is now the sixth day of the fight, unprecedented in history for the stubbornness and tenacity shown by both sides.

"The fighting Friday morning was resumed at 6 o'clock. We again advanced from Shakhie, capturing the advanced positions held by the Japanese by brilliant attacks by the Epifanovsky and Yuhovsky regiments. We reached their second line positions, but here a fierce artillery fire compelled our troops to halt and a desperate artillery duel was commenced. Twelve Japanese guns were silenced, every gunner being killed, and their infantry support also being driven back. The guns stood in plain view, but it was impossible for us to take them. Two battalions which were ordered to secure the Japanese guns advanced in the face of a terrible cannonade and rifle fire from the Japanese rear positions. It was, however, an impossible task; the shriek of the enemy's machine guns, the advancing ranks, whole companies withered under the terrible fire and our men were compelled to abandon the attempt.

"Later in the day a similar fate befell three of our batteries. They had advanced behind our infantry to pave the way for an attack on the Japanese position, but the infantry was forced back, the artillerymen were almost all killed and the guns remained alone. The Japanese made repeated desperate advances in the hope of securing the guns, but each time were driven off and toward nightfall we removed the guns safely.

"Our artillery action was beyond praise. Throughout the day the service of guns and accuracy of fire was splendid. An entire battalion of Japanese was moved down while attempting to advance, the troops fighting brilliantly and blood literally flowing in streams. Everywhere death seemed to be a secondary consideration.

"Toward evening the fighting at Shakhie abated and we and the Japanese retained our respective positions. Excellent news was received from the eastern division Friday night, but it is so sensational that it seems unadvisable to believe it until it shall have been officially confirmed. We can only counsel patience. Any hour may decide the fate of the battle."

RUSSIAN REPORT.

At the Russian front, Thursday, Oct. 14.—The Japanese offensive movement began Tuesday along the whole front line. The heaviest work was on the Russian extreme right, where fighting for possession of Hau pass and Tulin pass did not cease until midnight. The Russians succeeded in capturing the latter, though at fearful cost. The position at Pollasautzi, still further toward the Taisse river, held by the Tomsik regiment, was furiously assaulted. The regiment lost heavily. The regiment extricated itself from a seemingly hopeless position and succeeded in effecting its retirement. The Russians stuck to the most of their positions heroically Tuesday except at the Schiller river. Wednesday morning the Japanese renewed their attacks, preparing the way for their infantry with an artillery bombardment. At noon the Russian right began falling back, but the attack upon the Russian center and left was weakened perceptibly and the artillery fire slackened in everything, but rifle fire continued with little intermission throughout the night.

The Japanese to day (Thursday) renewed their attacks and the battle proceeded with varying success, but on the whole favorable to the Japanese, as the Russians continued to give ground. Russian wounded are being sent to Harbin.

FROM MUKDEN.

Impu Village, Oct. 14, Midnight.—(By Courier to Mukden).—The difficulties of their task and their heavy losses compelled the Russians to abandon efforts to capture the height commanding Tulin pass. Meanwhile the Japanese attacks upon the entire Russian front continued. This probably led to orders to the east column on the night of Oct. 13 to retreat north of the passes. Detachments on the flanks also retreated, but the fight was continued in another place, about 2 o'clock in the morning.

The artillery fire on the southeastern front, seemingly near Shakhie, on Friday morning became heavier and continued throughout the day and it continuing now, midnight. It is still difficult to judge the final results of this desperate fight before which the battles at Turinching, Vefangow and even Liao Yang pale into insignificance. It is apparent the Japanese still outnumber the Russians. All chief roads in the direction of Mukden are crowded with wounded.

ESTIMATE TOO LOW.

Tokio, Oct. 16, 9:30 a. m.—Everything indicates that Oyama's estimate of the Russian loss at 20,000 will fall below the actual mark. Among the trophies captured are 200 shells, six ammunition wagons and much uncounted munitions.

CONGREGATIONALISTS

Suggestion of Race Differences Comes up at National Meeting

Des Moines, Oct. 15.—There was a suggestion of race differences of the south in the business of the Congregational national meeting to day in action on the report of the credentials committee. Two delegations from Alabama had presented themselves, one from the Congregationalist society, colored, the other from the Congregationalists, white. In acting on this report President Blanchard of Wheaton college, Illinois, proffered a resolution in recognition of the negro delegates only, on the ground that their organization was the first in existence. A motion to adopt this failed after promise of acrimonious debate, but cooler heads prevailed and prevented further controversy by securing a hearing for the other delegation.

This afternoon's proceedings centered in the report of the missionary societies. Rev. Frank S. Fitch, D. D., of Buffalo, reported that the chief need was of confidence in and support of the several societies and recommended there be no attempt at federation except by slow rather than quick methods. The report was adopted and reconsidered and the whole matter was then referred to a special committee to report that day. It is understood this committee will recommend that the question of federation be referred to a special committee which shall consider the matter during the next three years and report to the next national council.

Officers were elected as follows: Secretary, Asher Anderson, D. D., Boston; treasurer, Samuel B. Forbes, Hartford, Conn.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—Chicago university defeated Iowa university 39 to 0 to day. The score at the end of the first half was Chicago, 4; Iowa, 0.

It was real foot ball from the start. In the first half both teams played a kicking game. In the second Chicago took the offensive and went through Iowa's line. Iowa's good showing in the first half was due to the grit and science of the men, and to the fact that Chicago reserved its heavy bucks for the second half, putting the weaker men in the first half. Chicago's score the first half was due to a mistake on the part of Chalmers of Iowa. Chicago worked to Iowa's 60 yard line and was there held for a down. Iowa pointed to the 35 yard line and Chalmers interfered with Chicago. This under the rules, entitled Chicago to a free kick at goal. The officials imposed the penalty and Parry kicked the goal, making the score Chicago 4; Iowa 0. The ball was in Iowa's territory for the rest of the half, but Chicago was unable to secure a touch down, owing to the splendid defensive work of Coach Chalmers' men.

In the second half Chicago substituted its star men in the back field and made touchdowns almost at will. Eckersley made the star play of the game. He caught the ball on Iowa's kickoff and with the aid of good interference ran 80 yards down the field for a touchdown.

ILLINOIS, 10; INDIANA, 0.

Champaign, Oct. 15.—Illinois defeated Indiana 10 to 0, scoring one touchdown and goal from the field. In the first half neither side could gain and played a kicking game, neither goal being in danger. Aydelott, Indiana's left end, played a star game. In the second half Indiana kicked to Illinois and by line huddling carried the ball to Indiana's twenty-yard line, Taylor making a touch where Monahan had the goal from the field. Illinois' touchdown was secured by straight bucks. Monahan kicked goal. When time was called the Illinois ball was on Indiana's two-yard line.

NORTHWESTERN, 34; BELLOIT, 0.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—Northwestern university defeated Beloit college at foot ball by a score of 34 to 0. The Beloit team did not appear in the good condition of the Northwestern eleven and the latter broke through the Beloit line the first half of the game almost at will. The latter part of the second half Beloit put up a much stronger game than in the early play, but it was too late and the end of the half came before they were able to score.

MICHIGAN, 26; OHIO, 6.

Columbus, Oct. 15.—Eight thousand people saw Michigan defeat Ohio university's crippled team 26 to 0. Ohio's defense was weak. Her points were scored on a 50 yard run for a touchdown by Marquardt, who secured the ball on a fumble. Michigan scored one touchdown in the first half and missed goal. In the second Michigan scored three touchdowns by straight foot ball and two kicked goal from the field.

MINNESOTA, 32; AMES, 0.

Minneapolis, Oct. 15.—Minnesota had a hard proposition to day when Ames college of Iowa was met on the field but was able to run up a score of 32 points to their opponent's nothing.

DEVELOPMENT OF THE NOVEL

Splendid Lecture by Prof. Troop Before the Woman's Club Saturday Afternoon.

Saturday afternoon the Woman's club graciously extended its hospitality to the various clubs of the city, and a large and representative audience listened to the scholarly lecture, "The Development of the Novel," by Prof. J. G. Carter Troop, of the Chicago university.

After the routine of business Miss Widenham played an "Etude" by Hans Seeling, in an artistic manner, and Miss Mary Tanner charmed her many friends with two songs, "In Volcan" and "Summer Time's Song."

Mrs. Reid, president of the Woman's club, then gracefully introduced Prof. Troop, whose lecture was an intellectual treat a splendid introduction to the course of lectures which he gives in this city. The following notes may give an idea of the lecture, but cannot supply the charming humor, nor suggest the graceful delivery. At the close of the lecture a social hour followed, when the ladies had the honor of meeting the distinguished speaker.

After speaking of the preliminary studies necessary for one who would rightly appreciate the art of fiction, Prof. Troop said: "Lord Bacon and other philosophers have recognized the aesthetic and moral value of fiction. They have found the history of fiction interesting—it occupies an important place in the history of the progress of society. By contemplating the fables, the stories of a people we have a successive definition of their prevalent modes of thinking, a picture of their feelings and traits and habits. It is chiefly by the fictions of an age that we can discover the modes of living, dress and manner of the period.

"The history of fiction, the progress, the development, the evolution of the novel, delineates the advance of the human mind; the history of what different individuals have effected in the course of ages for the instruction and amusement of their fellow beings.

"During the 17th century fiction was at a standstill in England, but towards the end of the century came John Bunyan, to whom the art of fiction is greatly indebted owing to his remarkably insight into character. He is the forerunner of Defoe, the author of Robinson Crusoe (1719), the earliest English novel of incident. Bunyan, Defoe and Dean Swift, author of Gulliver's Travels (1726) usher in a new era for the novel. To them novelists have repeatedly returned for instruction from Sir Walter Scott to R. L. Stevenson.

"With the publication of Samuel Richardson's Pamela in 1740 the first real modern novel of England is given to the world. It presents life as it really is, associated with an ideal of life as it ought to be.

"It must be remembered, said Professor Troop, that if the novel proper may be defined as the record of the emotion or individual soul, influenced by and influencing some other soul, and I think it may be so defined, we cannot have a real novel until some notion of individuality of formality in ordinary life entirely apart from all circumstances, is a very late notion in civilization. The notion of personality is quite unknown in a savage or semi-barbarous condition; it is unusual to day in backward civilizations. The common people in such countries are scarcely permitted to own an individual life and as in civilization the complete idea of the value of an individual and even the complete individual name is slow in development, so in literary expression the complete individual is a very late product. In medieval legends and stories and romances we have heroic types rather than men; we have ideal personages in the armor of the knight rather than living human beings; we have embodiments of virtue in the robes of queens and shades of fair, rather than real women. The heroes and heroines, in short, are all alike; their names could be changed and nobody would notice the difference. There is no real individual real life presented to us. It is not until after the reformation that we have any real trace of recognition of the importance that the individual deserves. It is not until Shakespeare that we have individuals in the drama. The novel proper came late into life; but it could not have come till the mind of man recognized the notion of personality apart from circumstances.

Richardson, Fielding, Smollett, Sterne and Goldsmith, the great novelists of the eighteenth century, were all characterized by the lecturer, who closed his lecture by some happy remarks on Jane Austen and Sir Walter Scott, in whom we see the perfection of prose fiction.

JUDGE PARKER 'MAKES SPEECH'

TALKS TO DELEGATION OF DEMOCRATS

Takes for Text Democratic Platform Declaration on the Philippines—Argument Produced by the Candidate.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Oct. 15.—Judge Parker to day addressed two visiting delegations on political subjects, making his second speech of the campaign since accepting the Democratic nomination of the party. They represented Long Island Democratic clubs.

Col. Charles C. Codman, of Boston, and Prof. Henry W. Haddon, of New York, gave extended speeches, confining their remarks to the Philippine question and discussing the attitude of the Republican administration on that question.

Parker took for his text the Democratic platform declaration on the Philippines. He repeated his former statement that we may not disregard the responsibility imposed by possession of the Philippines and that responsibility will be best answered by preparing the islands as rapidly as possible for self government and give to them the assurance that it will come as soon as they are reasonably prepared for it.

"This means independence for the Philippines in the fullest sense of the word," he declared. "The Republican party," he said, "stands for the subjugation of defenseless foreign peoples. Democracy stands for freedom." Citing efforts of the Philippines to free themselves from Spanish rule, the success of our ancestors in gaining freedom, and efforts in the same direction by the Irish and Boers, he said:

"Every true American would deplore a man who would not fight to the last gasp for the land of his forefathers and the birthplace of his babes. We perpetually point with pride to our love of liberty. The Republican platform asserts that fifty years ago the Republican party came into existence dedicated among other purposes to the great task of arresting the extension of human slavery. Arresting the extension of human slavery, that sounds well. But it speaks of the virtue of another generation. All the leaders of the Republican party of that day have passed away. In their place have come very different men.

Parker said the Philippines have already cost $50,000,000 and 200,000 lives, and the end is not yet. He argued that the government should have done by the Philippines as they did by the Cubans and insisted that "our duty to the Philippines demands a promise of independence."

Parker then recounted the objectionable conditions in the Philippines as tending to show the failure of the present administration to properly govern the island and wanted to know if the Republicans intended to apply a remedy to better these conditions. He concluded as follows:

"Aside from the duty we owe the Philippines in preparation for enjoyment of the blessed privileges we possess, we should carefully guard against danger to ourselves of an imperialistic policy. History teaches that from republicanism to imperialism the movement is gradual and unperceived of the people. Its ominous progress when discovered leaves open but two courses—submission or resort to violence.

"That our people may never be compelled to choose between these fearful alternatives should be our prayer. But we should work as well as pray. And our work should be to guard the foundation on which our government rests. Its basis is that of declared ideas—ideas that are stronger than battleships and armies—ideas which for more than a century have stimulated our development, and which have given promise that our 'world mission' shall be to give the territory of distant peoples and rule them with a scepter of iron, but to establish truth, honor, justice and peace among nations. We must choose whether within our borders the basis of government shall continue to be this idealism or materialism, which is the sure precursor of dissolution, for no nation can endure upon a basis of materialism however splendid. Prudence requires that a choice be made in time. The time is now."

BRYAN'S CAMPAIGN.

Seymour, Ind., Oct. 15.—William J. Bryan concluded the fourth day of his tour with a speech before a large crowd here to night. ### SENATOR FAIRBANKS

Vice Presidential Candidate Starts Speech Making in Wisconsin.

Milwaukee, Oct. 15.—Senator Fairbanks entered Wisconsin to night and in this city delivered his first speech in the state. The meeting was under the auspices of the state central committee composed of followers of Governor LaFollette and recognized by the national Republican committee. Members of both factions were present at the meeting.

Governor LaFollette and wife occupied a box and as the state executive entered an organ rendered "Hail to the Chief." A demonstration lasting some minutes followed, the audience standing and cheering the governor. Requests for a speech were made, but LaFollette raised his hands in silence. At this moment Fairbanks entered with the reception committee and the demonstration was renewed. Fairbanks said he appreciated the welcome, telling his auditors it was no means personal, but to show "that he stood for those great policies in national affairs which you deem best for our common interests."

Fairbanks devoted much time to discussion of imperialism, saying: "An utterly groundless and more preposterous issue was never raised by any party before," and "the government in the Philippines is a lawful one," he said, and that "the United States will discharge its duty there as to bring honor to the United States."

Fairbanks was frequently cheered during his speech. He was followed by Congressman Smith of Iowa.

COOKING LESSONS.

Those interested in good cooking and kindred subjects will be glad to know that Miss C. C. Bedford, whose services have been secured by Passavant Memorial hospital for a series of lessons in cooking for the nurses, has kindly consented to help toward paying the hospital's expenses for the nurses' course by giving a course of eight demonstration lectures to a general class outside the hospital.

Miss Bedford is a graduate of the Teachers' college, of New York city, and was for two years and a half director of the domestic science department of Pratt institute, Brooklyn. Her editorial work and contributions to periodicals are well known. She has given also courses of lectures and lessons in various summer schools and special training in cooking to nurses in Bellevue, the Presbyterian and a number of other New York hospitals.

Miss Bedford's work will begin here about Nov. 1 and further notice will then be given of the dates, subjects, prices, etc., of the lectures. It is hoped that a large number will avail themselves of this opportunity for taking lessons from one of our most competent teachers of cookery and at the same time for aiding the hospital.

NEXT TUESDAY—"BUSTER BROWN"

Many successful plays have been built around imaginary characters that have been made popular in the funny pages of the great daily newspapers, but none would appear to have as much genuine attractiveness as "Buster Brown," whom Richard F. Outcault created for the New York Herald. Buster is a real boy, similar to many we actually know, and Tige is a real dog. Melville B. Raymond bought the sole rights to these characters and has had them made the pivotal points in a farce that has also musical, dancing and spectacular features. There is a large chorus and a number of "show girls" warranted to surpass anything that the Madison Square beauty show contest could provide. They are costumed in the latest style by Wannamaker. Fifty people are engaged in the performance.

"WATCH THE KIDNEYS." "When they are effected, life is in danger," says Dr. Abernethy, the great English physician. Foley's Kidney Cure makes sound kidneys. Sold by J. A. Obermeyer, City Drug Store.

IN MEMORIAM.

At the meeting of the Wednesday Musical club on Oct. 5, it was voted to express the sympathy of its members to the husband and mother of our late member, Mrs. Bergen Smith.

We bear grateful testimony to her untiring zeal and efficiency as a worker in the club. As we recount her ever cheerful and winning presence, her willingness to work in whatever capacity she was called, and her self-sacrificing devotion, we feel a deep sense of personal loss in her demise. The memory and the fruits of her association will long abide with us.

We hereby tender our most profound sympathy to those near and dear to her, in their bereavement and shall incorporate this note in the permanent records of the club.

FINE CATTLE.

A day or two since the Journal mentioned the shipment of some fine cattle by W. R. Dunlap & Co., and said they were bought of Frank Huffaker. As the information came from a reliable source it was deemed correct, but R. R. Stevenson says he is entitled to some of that glory, for ten of the choicest car were of his raising, and the other seven were bought from Mr. Huffaker. Mr. Stevenson makes a specialty of breeding Polled Angus cattle and has attained some fine results. He sold Messrs. Dunlap & Co. four yearlings and recently a man came here from Indiana and took one of them at seven cents to exhibit at a fat stock show.

RAISES FINE HOGS.

Among the successful hog growers of the county, Jerome Culp, of Woodson precinct, stands well in the front rank. He recently shipped 165 porkers which averaged 287 pounds and topped the market the day they arrived. They were mostly Poland Chinas, part of them grown by Mr. Culp and part bought by him when they were small. Jerome knows how to feed and rear hogs successfully, as is well shown by this incident which is one of many in his career.

BETTER THAN PILLS.

The question has been asked—In what way are Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets superior to the ordinary cathartic and liver pills? Our answer is—They are easier and more pleasant to take, and their effect is so gentle and so agreeable that one hardly realizes that it is produced by a medicine. Then they not only move the bowels but improve the appetite and aid the digestion. For sale at 25 cents per bottle by all leading druggists.

You conserve your own interests when you conserve the interests of your county. The administration of county affairs should be entrusted to those men whose fitness and ability recommends them to the office for which they aspire. The nominees of the Republican county ticket are men who will watch the people's interests and who can be relied upon for a safe, conservative and economical administration of the business which will come before them.

The Republican county ticket should commend itself to the voters of Morgan county in no uncertain manner. Irrespective of party lines the people will do well to consider their interests at home. An economical administration of the affairs of the county means the saving of hundreds of dollars to the tax-payer, while safe, trustworthy and competent officials serve to increase the confidence of strangers in the community and leads to the investment of capital within our own borders that might seek investment elsewhere. The Republicans have nominated a clean ticket and the nominees are fully qualified for their respective positions; many of them having had years of experience, and whose service has been of the highest order and efficiency. The Republican county ticket from the top to bottom is deserving of the suffrage of the man who thinks.

MADE FAST TIME.

Robert Cassell, Felix Farrell and Leslie Leach went to Springfield Friday in the automobile owned by the latter, to get Mr. Farrell's machine, which is being repaired there.
The machine was not ready, so the party returned with Mr. Leach, who made the distance in the fast time of two hours and three minutes. What makes the run especially remarkable is the fact that it was made after night.

SUSTAINED SEVERE FALL.

Albert Jones, a resident of Franklin, fell against the wall of the Illinois Millinery House on East State street Saturday afternoon and received wounds about the head that bled freely. He was removed to Passanant hospital in Cherry's ambulance.

ness men of Chicago, and a retired part-

THOMAS W. ALLEN,
Director General of the Eagles' Fall Festival, Which Closed Saturday Night.

GALA WEEK CONCLUDED

FALL FESTIVAL THING OF THE PAST

Success Characterized the Entire Program—Work of T. W. Allen—Miss Mamie Nunes as Queen.

The great Eagles' fall festival and carnival is a thing of the past. The management has been excellent and the weather, always an element in the success of such undertakings, has been perfect. The Mundy shows are by far the best that have been seen here under similar conditions, and met with general satisfaction, and were witnessed by crowds of delighted audiences.

THE QUEEN.

Thursday was the big day of carnival week and the crowning feature of the day and evening was the parade in honor of the queen and the cere-

MISS MAMIE NUNES,
Crowned Queen of the Eagles' Fall Festival.

monies attending her coronation in the wild animal show.

Miss Mamie Nunes, who had the honor of being selected for this favor, proved a most gracious queen and her stately demeanor and general bearing won deserving plaudits from the admiring crowd which witnessed the coronation.

The contest for the selection of the queen was indeed one of the features of the fall festival.

Messrs Bay and Vogt, musical entertainers, will give a selected program during dinner, 6 to 8 o'clock at the Dunlap hotel today.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT.

Frank T. Finney, of Chicago, son of T. V. Finney, of this city, was injured Wednesday in an automobile accident. He was riding with a friend, and in trying to escape collision with a cab the auto was turned into a telephone pole, with the result that Mr.
Finney was thrown violently out, sustaining a dislocation of the shoulder and a fracture of one arm. He was taken to Wesleyan hospital, where he is being cared for by his sister, Miss Grace, who is a nurse in that institution.

Delaware, Ohio, Oct. 15.—Prof. William O. Smith, of Wesleyan University, is expected to be here for over two weeks.

The free attractions were drawing features and were fully up to the daring acts advertised in the beginning of the undertaking.

Saturday was advertised as "Farmers' Day," and the crowd in the city evidenced the fact that a large number from all parts of the county were here to enjoy the final day of carnival week.

The Eagles as an organization have spared no effort to make the festival a success and the members of the order can congratulate themselves on the results attained.

Locally, the undertaking has been under the direction and management of Thomas Allen, who certainly deserves great credit for the splendid manner in which all the various departments have worked together in perfect harmony and agreement.

Thomas Endsley, who acted as secretary, also filled the difficult position in a capable manner. The various committees did their work faithfully and well and harmony reigned throughout the entire program.

MORMONS ARE AFTER CARTHAGE

Choir of Five Hundred Voices Arrive—Will Hold Memorial Service to Day.

The five hundred members of the Mormon choir from the temple in Salt Lake City are expected to be in Carthage, Ill., to-day to hold services in memory of the members of the church who were massacred in the Carthage jail years ago. The choir is on the way to St. Louis and will take advantage of the opportunity to visit the scene of the historic massacre of their people.

The Mormons have long tried to secure the old jail, but were unsuccessful for many years, the owner refusing to sell. The owner of the property, however, died recently, and the estate disposed of the old building to the representatives of the Mormon church. They have also acquired additional property in the town and are endeavoring to re-establish their church. They recently endeavored to purchase the old church on the corner of the square, but an investigation of the matter disclosed the fact that the ground had been given to the Presbyterian congregation years ago by William McCormick, with the provision that if it passed out of the hands of the church, that it revert back to the heirs. The Mormons expect to erect a church in Carthage in the near future and claim to have already three families from the town with which to start the congregation. The residents of the town are much opposed to the enterprise and may take measures to remove them from the vicinity.

LECTURE RECITAL

Under Auspices Wednesday Musical Club—"Parsifal" the Subject.

The Wednesday Musical club has the pleasure of announcing a lecture-recital on Richard Wagner's great opera, "Parsifal," to be given under its auspices Monday evening, Nov. 7, by Mr. N. J. Corey, of Boston and Detroit, a well known lecturer, pianist and organist.

The public interest in "Parsifal" has been universal during the past year in connection with the much-talked-of performances in New York city, and so many have expressed a desire to become more familiar with this masterpiece that it is believed an opportunity to hear a lecture on "Parsifal" with piano and organ illustrations and stereopticon views, will be highly appreciated. Students also should be enabled to have opportunity to get a clear idea of this greatest of the long master's works.

It is not too much to claim that this lecture, by the aid of pictures representing the scenery and great singers of the Bayreuth production, cannot fail to repay the attention of music lovers who are not students by giving them a simple and excellent conception of the entire work, text, scene, and dramatic presentation.

Wagner himself wrote that in this sacred drama, "the most exalted mysteries of the Christian religion are depicted." Mr. Corey is well known on account of his Wagnerian lectures and has a wide reputation as a pianist and organist.

Prices on millinery at Herrmann's always lower than the lowest quality, considered.

CHANGE IN LAW FIRM.

The East St. Louis Republican-News contained the following complimentary notice regarding S. W. Baxter, who is so well and favorably known in Jacksonville, his former home. During his brief residence in East St. Louis Mr. Baxter has built up a splendid law practice and has made many warm friends.

"A recent change in one of the established law firms of this city has thus far inadvertently passed unnoticed by this paper. Reference is made to the well known firm of Dempsey & Washburn, with offices in the postoffice building. Mr. Washburn, the junior member of the firm, having accepted the position of secretary and treasurer of the Citizens' Savings and Trust company, withdrew from the firm, being succeeded by S. W. Baxter, the firm now being composed of Thomas E. Dempsey, who needs no introduction to this community as a citizen and a lawyer, and S. W. Baxter, who located in this city about one year ago for the practice of his profession, and who has in this time impressed the legal fraternity and his rapidly increasing clientele with his worth as a citizen and ability, industry and fidelity as a lawyer.

"The style of the firm is Dempsey & Baxter, and the Republican-News predicts for this firm a most successful career as one of the many creditable law firms of our growing city."

A Stove Bargain

COLE'S HOT BLAST is a great value. We sell it under a positive guarantee to save one-third in fuel over any lower draft stove of the same size. Our only condition is that it shall be operated according to directions and set up with a good flue. Another thing—Cole's Hot Blast will burn soft coal, lignite coal, coke, hard coal, wood, or any fuel without any change in the stove.

FOR HARD COAL it gives greater heat than any base burner with one-half the coal, because it is air-tight and has twice the positive radiating surface.

Scientific Construction.

Air-tight and gas-tight construction throughout. A patented steel collar connects the elbow draft to the stove body and cannot open by action of the fiercest heat. The patented compound hinge on the lower draft cannot warp and the draft door closes airtight by its own weight. The patented smoke-proof feed door prevents smoke, dust, or gas escaping when fuel is put in the stove. Perfect results, therefore, from any fuel. This heavy fire box protects the points where other stoves burn out first, and insures great durability. Cole's Hot Blast makes

MATHEW & LLOYD.

(By Associated Press.)

Chicago, Oct. 15.—Wheat—The market was strong from the start. Cables were higher, weather there being reported extremely unfavorable. These factors encouraged bull traders. The element of weakness, the great importance, however, was the continued demand for the cash article and apparent scarcity of that commodity. Shorters and commission houses were urged to hold for December at the start, but offerings were extremely light. May was helped by the strength of December. On the advance in selling, sales were made resulting in a temporary setback. The market soon regained control and the remainder of the session prices were remarkably firm. Trading was mainly in December. A late feature was confirmation of the rumor that northwest mills are buying Manitoba wheat. The close was strong, December up 3/4c, May 3/4c.

Corn—Only moderate trade, with feeling weaker, the close being 1/4c lower for December and 1/4c for May. Commission houses were liberal sellers of May, while demand was confined chiefly to floor traders. Southwest was a moderate buyer. December was in fair demand at the decline. Weather was favorable, but receipts small.

Oats—Steady early with other grains and advanced 1/4c, but declined 3/4c and closed at the bottom with loss of 1/4c. The break was on short selling and liquidation. Trading was fair. Cash sales, 10,000 bushels.

Flour—Demand fair, prices steady. Winter patents, $3.00 1/2; straight, $3.00 1/2.

spring patents, $3.00 1/2; straight, $3.00 1/2.

INDICATIONS.

FUNERALS

VASEY.

The funeral of Mrs. Jennie Vasey was held at the Christian church in Woodson Saturday morning at 10:30, in charge of Rev. G. W. Miller. A large number of sorrowing relatives and friends gathered to pay a last tribute of love and respect to the dead.

At the conclusion of the services the remains were borne to Asbury cemetery and were there laid to rest.

CLEANING UP.

Before midnight the work of tearing down the tents in Central park had begun and Mayor Davis was on hand to see that the work of properly cleaning up the accumulated rubbish and trash was attended to by those who were visitors here for the week. As soon as practicable the work of cleaning the square and adjacent streets was begun and before the time of going to press normal conditions were being rapidly restored.

The Mundy shows jump from this city to Jackson, Tenn.

MADE HIGH AVERAGE.

James Groves received word Saturday from J. Z. Scott, who is participating in the gun club shoot being held in Pekin under the direction of A. C. Conner, that he won the high average in Saturday's contest. There are many of the best shots in the state in attendance at the Pekin shoot and the showing made by Mr. Scott evidences the fact that he is a marksman of the first rank.

FINE HORSES.

Pictures of the horses shown by Crum Bros. at the Louisiana Purchase exposition, with the medals and ribbons which they won, are on exhibition in Phelps & Osborn's show window. For one of the horses shown Mr. Crum says he was offered $1,000 by the Russian minister. They are all fine animals and would be a credit to anybody's stables.

SENATORIAL CONTEST

Arguments Made Before Judges

Barnes and Murray Saturday—In Session Until Midnight—Will File Decision Wednesday.

The Republican county ticket test in the Forty-fifth senatorial district was held before Judge Barnes and Judge Murray, the county judges of the two counties involved in the contest, in the county judge's room of the Sangamon court house, Saturday.

Attorneys for the contestants and contestees appeared before the board and arguments of counsel occupied the greater part of the entire day. Sessions were held Saturday morning, afternoon and evening and at midnight the board adjourned, stating that they would file their decision with the secretary of state Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock.

The first session of the judges convened at 10 o'clock, and after listening to arguments for over two hours an adjournment was taken until 1:30 p. m. The second session lasted until 6:45 in the evening and at 8 o'clock the third session of the day began and lasted until midnight.

Messrs. Overstreet and Murray, the nominees of the Tiffany convention, were represented by Attorneys Salzenstein and Murray, of Sangamon, and Judge M. T. Layman, of this city.

Messrs. Heisl and Petzer, the nominees of the Robinson convention, were represented by Attorneys Robinson, Barber and Butler, of Sangamon, and Bellatti, of Morgan.

The former attorneys based their claim to recognition on the fact of the action of the senatorial committee in seating the delegates selected at the Yates primaries, while the latter attorneys went into the merits of the whole question back to the time of the holding of the Yates and Hamilton primaries in Sangamon county last spring. The arguments were very skillfully, carefully and exhaustively made on both sides and were so lengthy that the board did not have sufficient time to consider the case

REGISTRATION DAYS

REGISTER TUESDAY, OCT. 18. SEE THAT YOUR NAME IS IN POLLING BOOK BEFORE NOV. 1. THE LAST DAY OF REGISTRATION.

REGISTRATION DAYS

Tuesday, Oct. 18th and Tuesday, Nov. 1st.

REGISTRATION DAYS

All voters should remember to register either Tuesday, Oct. 18, or Tuesday, Nov. 1. On the first day it is not necessary to go in person. Any one can give in a name and if the judges are satisfied it should go on the list, it will be placed there, but the second time the voter must go in person; that is, Nov. 1. It is always well to see to it that the name of the voter is registered. He can be sworn in if his name is not on the poll book, but it is better to have it there, as it saves trouble and delays. See to it that your own name and that of your neighbor is registered next Tuesday.

FOOT BALL GAMES

High School Eleven Lost to Springfield—Business College at Pittsfield—Whipple and D. D. Game.

Eleven from the Springfield and Jacksonville high schools fought for supremacy on the gridiron in Springfield Saturday afternoon. It was a spirited contest and at one time the local team was two touchdowns to the good. Springfield began pounding the center and with repeated assaults found a weak spot in the line and went through for steady gains. The final score was 17 to 11, and while the local boys were defeated they were by no means disgraced and put up a creditable contest from the time the whistle first sounded until the last moment of time in the second half.

The line-up of the local team was as follows: Kinn, r. h. b.; Mendonsa, l. c.; Werhle, l. t.; Warner, l. g.; Molinix, c.; Vickery, r. g.; Funk, r. t.; Holen-thall, r. c.; Wright, q. b.; Richards, f. b.; Bowen, l. h. b.

Summary: Referee—Percy Owen. Umpire—Wood. Timers—Butler and Conley. Line-men—Vidulich and Johnson. Time—First half, twenty minutes; second, fifteen minutes.

Pittsfield defeated the J. B. C. team Saturday afternoon on their own grounds by a score of 16 to 0. The local players put up a stubborn fight against great odds and by their plucky playing held the score down. The last touchdown was made in the last scrimmage before time was called in the second half. The Pittsfield team was supposed to contain only high school students, but several players from the town were in the line-up and really played the game for the Pittsfield eleven.

The line-up of the J. B. C. team was as follows: Jarrett, c.; Hamilton, r. g.; Reno, r. t.; Barnett, r. c.; D. Smith, l. g.; West, l. t.; Dickson, l. c.; Green, q.; Allen, r. h. b.; G. Smith, l. h. b.; Story, f. b. The halves were fifteen and twenty minutes. Referee, Will Harmon.

WHIPPLE VS. D. & D.

Whipple academy lost in foot ball to the Deaf and Dumb eleven Saturday afternoon in a one-sided contest. The mutes scored at ease and the Whipple boys were powerless to stop their advances. French, Werner and Macdo made good runs for the mutes and in the second half three touchdowns were made in the first four minutes of play.

The line-up of the two teams was as follows:

NORTHWESTERN ENGINEER

Edward Carter Formerly of This City Has Risen to High Position in Railroad World.

Edward Carter, of Chicago, was in the city Saturday visiting his aged father, George Carter, on Caldwell street. The gentleman from Chicago is one of the men who have done their native place no little credit, as he now has one of the highest positions in his line in the country. Years ago his parents wisely decided to give him a thorough technical education and his native talents soon asserted themselves and he graduated with honor, and was not long in finding a position.

He was with the Wabash for some time in an important capacity and finally went to the great Northwestern, where he rose to the chief position as civil engineer. He is a man of quick resources and capable with the qualities most desired by managers of great lines. Some years ago the writer learned through a friend of a feat performed by Mr. Carter. A new bridge was to be constructed across the Chicago river in the city, and Mr. Carter had a novel plan of his own, which he felt would work.

The details cannot be given with scientific accuracy, but in the main are correct. His plan was to place the several parts of the structure on flat boats or barges, anchor them in their proper places and rapidly construct the bridge. It was a daring idea and required skill and generalship, and above all permission from higher authority to attempt it. This he secured by going to the directors individually late one week and Sunday, when traffic was lightest he had his men and material ready and in an unheard of short time had the bridge completed. Monday the officials considered what they had done in giving the young engineer such authority and in a meeting decided to rescind the permission accorded him, to try his method of constructing a bridge in a hurry; but they were too late, for when the veto reached him the structure was completed and trains had been running over it for some time.

The writer, who was for many years a neighbor of the Carter family, well remembers Edward when a boy and also the promises he then gave of future success and the old hard work the aspiring young man did in preparing himself for his life profession. Mr. Carter said to the writer that he had from 125 to 250 civil engineers under him nearly all the time and as it falls to his lot to employ them, he will have none but graduates of an accredited polytechnic institution. The great system of the Northwestern requires men of skill, ability, promptness and decisive action. At one time the president of the road called on Mr. Carter and told him the company had decided to undertake the construction of an additional branch involving the expenditure of a large amount of money, and the addition of a good many miles to the trackage owned by the corporation, and wanted to know how soon a force of men could be put to work. So admirably was the civil engineering department organized that its chief replied at once what he could do, and though it was then Friday, the chief replied that by Tuesday he would have a hundred engineers at work with teams on the ground and everything ready to begin, and he did.

Mr. Carter carefully watches the men in his employ, and while his duties are too vast to permit him to look after details he closely scrutinizes the reports sent him and is able to decide who are capable of advancement. Tapeman is the first stage and after a course of several months a suitable person will be competent to advance to rod man; more months are needed to take him to the instruments and years to make him an assistant engineer, and none but graduates can successfully compete for such positions on a large road like the Northwestern.

In this, as in everything else, there is room up higher. Many graduates are being turned out each year in the civil engineering departments of various universities and as in all other spheres, there are good, bad and indifferent. In mining engineering
